This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

LOUIS DEMARANVILLE.

Legend says Louis DeMaranville was born in Paris, France, and was a young officer in the army, age 19. One morning while walking in the garden he saw his new step-mother punishing his little sister and becoming enraged pulled out his sword and knocked her bonnet off. To escape a worse punishment he was put on board a war ship of which Francis Crapo was Captain. This vessel was wrecked off the shore of Cape Cod, and four men and the boy Peter Crapo were saved in a boat said to have landed at Plymouth, Mass. The boy Peter Crapo about 12 years of age was bound out by his brother the Captain to Francis Coombs of Middleboro, Mass. No date is given of their coming but it was probably before 1700—A rhyme of the men's names I have heard repeated by descendants of the five families, was

Louis DeMaranville and Louis Voteau.
Old Peter Juckett and Francis Crapeau.

Peter Crapo buys land in Rochester, Mass. as early as 1703 and was married in 1704. At the time of this marriage Louis DeMaranville is said to make a vow that he would not marry until he could marry a daughter of Peter Crapo, which in 1730 he did, and is said to have had thirteen children, of several of which I find no mention. It is said that while waiting for his future wife to grow up that he cleared up an exceedingly nice farm for those days and built thereon a wall so wide that a yoke of oxen could be driven on top thereof, a portion of this wall is shown today on the old homestead near Braley's Station, in Dartmouth, Mass. It is said also that Louis named his first child Chaumont after the Duke of Chaumont. An old pewter porringer said to belong to Louis is yet shown and is in the hands of a descendant Mrs. Abbie J. Brooks of New Bedford, Mass.

A deed dated 1773 refers to Louis as lately deceased and while we do not know how old he was at his death, yet if our legend is true he must have been more than 100 years old, and it has been claimed 110. The family has been noted for its longevity, also for its musical and inventive ability.

It is not known how much truth there is in this legend, but this we do know that the men mentioned in the rhyme and the boy Peter Crapo were all in the town of Rochester and married before 1735 and therefore could not have been of the Arcadians (who were not driven out until after 1740) as has been alleged.

The spelling of the name has differed among many branches and often in the same family I find it DeMaranville, DeMoranville, DeMeranville, Maranville, Moranville, and Ranville, and should be pronounced DeMaranville with each a, as in ran. I have made no attempt to show which each one uses, as I only use first and middle names in the following pages.

W. Routson:

Ten years ago we met with you,
  With tribute warm to proffer,
Congratulating both of you;
  And you had much to offer.

Yes—offering fifty years of bliss—
  Years filled with quiet doings;—
Years frought with much that counts for worth,
  To those who heed life's wooings.

And here today we come again,
  Our hearts aglow with greeting—
Rejoicing in the lapse of time
  That furnishes the meeting.

For who could say ten years ago,
  As we were gathered hither,
That in the span of ten years more
  Which soul might fade and wither.

It causes us to feel a touch
  Of the Infinite Master,
And for His love and guiding hand
  Our hearts beat fast and faster.

So as we come with brimming hearts,
  Of love and joy to meet you:
The burden of this happy throng
  Is—friends, we're glad to greet you.

Far o'er the hillside
Comes a call so loud and full;
Far o'er the waters
Comes a call so true—
Come to the Re-Union.
Where the kindred spirit dwells;
Meet with those who know you,
Speak to those who love you.

Chorus: Coming, we are coming;
We'll grasp each other by the hand
Coming, we are coming;
We'll linger awhile.
God's richest blessing
Rest upon this family
As one true body.
May we in love be
Helpful,kind and loyal
In true love and purity.
Be proud of our name,
De Maranville in fame.

Chorus: Loyal, oh be loyal,
To one another, oh be true;
Loyal, oh be loyal,
God will bless us too.
